

COMMITTEE IN NEED OF MANY MORE ROOMS

Ogden is rapidly filling up with the visitors that are coming here for the four big attractions, starting this week—the Four State Fair, the International Sheep Show, the big race meet and the Good Roads Convention.

Already the hotels are either crowded to overflowing or are so nearly full that they expect to hang out the "full house" sign tonight.

The Reed already is overcrowded, and the desk clerks are pulling off the guests in single rooms so as to handle the visitors.

At the Healy there were but eight or nine vacant rooms last night, and the man at the desk expected to fill them on the arrival of the train.

At the European the same conditions prevail, while the Broom and the Arlington are practically filled.

The latter hotel holds a couple of rooms for the accommodation of transients, but will probably have to rent them to the people brought here by the fair or the race meet before long.

Mr. Ensign of the Arlington, when seen by a Standard reporter, declared that he expected an enormous crowd of people to visit this city, and that the problem of housing the people was a difficult one. He asserts that unless hotelkeepers with spare rooms offer to rent to the visitors there will be many with no place to sleep.

Mr. Ensign already has a list of people who are willing to rent rooms during the fair week, offering 200 rooms, and additions are being made to the list every hour. The number of visitors expected, however, will quickly swamp up these rooms and hundreds more will be in demand.

He urged that every person, whether he cares for the rental money or not, come to the aid of the hotel men and assist as far as they can in caring for the city's guests.

The people coming here will be of a good class generally, and should not be made unwelcome or uncomfortable because of a disinclination on the part of some hotelkeepers to inconvenience themselves for one week. Every one is urged to help the city entertain its visitors.

Mr. Ensign will give everybody who offers a room fair and courteous treatment, and the various committees in charge of the four big attractions will appreciate the help so rendered.

EVERYTHING IN READINESS FOR RACE MEET OPENING

Trainers were busy all yesterday morning at the fair grounds track galloping and exercising their charges over the superb course, and it was the generally expressed opinion among the horsemen that the track is one of the best and fastest half-mile tracks in the country.

Some even went further and declared that for faultlessness of construction the Ogden track is without a rival.

All speak in the highest terms of the course, and one trainer was heard to remark that he would rather race his horses over it than any other track west of Denver.

Be that as it may, the track undoubtedly is in tip top condition and according to reliable judges it could hardly be improved upon. Track Superintendent C. P. Dye, has been at work on it all summer and he has brought it to a state of perfection, that one seldom finds elsewhere. What particularly appeals to the horseman is the beautiful way in which the turns are banked, insuring safety to the fields and reducing the chances of accidents to a minimum.

Track in Fine Shape.

The track has been harrowed and rolled and is now as fast as it is possible to make it, and as a result track records are bound to go a glimmering after the speed marvels get accustomed to the half mile circuit. Most of the horses now quartered at the track have been racing on mile tracks all summer, but it will not take them very long to extend themselves on the smaller course.

The local track record for the four furlongs was created by Fore last spring when the Irwin horse ran the distance in 1:15, lowering the previous record made by Roger Red. It would not be at all surprising if the records for all distances went by the boards before the close of the meeting, the visiting horsemen declare.

After inspecting the place under the stand formerly used as a betting ring, Manager Dwyer decided that it was hardly commodious enough to serve the purpose at the meeting, and immediately made arrangements for the construction of a new betting ring on the outside and to the right of the grandstand. Workmen were soon at work on the new structure, and it is expected that it will be all ready by opening day. The new betting shed will prove a boon to the public and bookmakers alike, and will be appreciated by those having business there.

Divide the Grand Stand.

The work of dividing the grand stand into two sections by means of a wire fence strung from the front to the rear was completed yesterday. It is intended to make the left hand section free to the public, while the seats in the other section will be reserved. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged to this section.

The programs for the fair, are now in the hands of the printer and will be ready by opening day. They are neatly gotten up and are pronounced works of art.

The influx of visitors for the fair and race meeting continues unabated, and the different hotels and places where the racing fraternity are wont to gather present scenes of animation.

From the Blue Grass Region.

Among those who got in yesterday were Jake Marklein, who came all the way from Louisville, Ky., to attend the local meeting. He brought a number of two-year-old colts from the Blue Grass state, that he expects will take down a few purses. Marklein is one of the veterans of the turf, and is considered one of the best judges of horseflesh in his home state.

A number of bookmakers and their clerks, also appeared upon the scene yesterday, most of them coming from the Eastern racing centers. Frank Jones, and Bill Collins were among the number, and all express the opinion that the meeting will prove to be a big success.

Entries Be Out Today.

The entries for opening day will be out this afternoon, and there will be a general air of expectancy among race-goers to learn what horses are going to start the first day. Six races are carded and it is expected that all of them will fill well, as most of the horses now quartered at the track are in fine condition and ready to race.

On account of the width of the track the fields in the different events will of necessity have to be limited. The large fields however will be sufficiently large to insure good contests.

List of Owners and Horses.

Deeming that it would prove of interest to the racing public the Standard has compiled the full list of owners who have horses at the track together with the names of their horses, the same being herewith appended:

S. F. Armour—Bill Mayham, Canopus, Allen and Hall—Joe Stokes, Aquiline, Miss Delaney, George Bassett—Oreole, Swagmire, No Quarter, Irish Mail, A. M. Bogan—Novgorod, Northwest Stable—Sir John, Clearlighter, Spring Ban, Gretchen G.

In addition to these there are about seventy more horses on their way here, and the racing public will be given a fine show of the best of the breed.

It will bring the total of thoroughbreds at the local track close to two hundred and fifty.

Complications have arisen in the recovery of stolen horses that caused even the sheriff's office. When a stolen horse is recovered, the man to whom it was sold or traded, demands repayment, or the return of his own horse. Before the investigation is ended, will be dealt with a little more leniently than otherwise.

He is a member of an Ogden family that some time ago moved to Canada.

TO FAIR EXHIBITORS.

Make your Fair entries before September 21st at Four State Fair headquarters 350 Twenty-fourth street, up stairs. The exhibits must be in place at 10 a. m., September 23rd and the secretary must have two days to prepare the books. Make your entries as soon as possible. "FIGHTING BOB" WILL PASS HERE

Admiral Robley D. Evans, "Fighting Bob," will reach Ogden and Salt Lake City from the northwest today, and remain in Salt Lake city until Friday. Arrangements are now being made to give the celebrated naval hero a fitting welcome there, he having received his appointment to the Annapolis naval academy from Utah. He was born in Virginia, but while living in Utah he had a youth in his naval career. He was retired from active service two years ago.

decidedly clever young lady, studied enough to manage a month of repetition, and attractive enough to satisfy without mere acting.

Jack Christie as the villainous Colonel Dudley Middleton showed to the same advantage that he did in the part of Colonel Carleton on Sunday night. Mr. Christie, if given good clothes, preferably military togs, can hold his audience with breathless interest and always pleases, even as a villain.

Secretary Wilson's Report—Over One Million Animals Condemned

Secretary Wilson's report for the year 1909 shows that out of the 55,000,000 animals inspected at government inspected packing plants, 141,000 entire carcasses and 899,000 parts of carcasses were condemned as unfit for human food, making a total of over 1,000,000 animals of about two per cent of the total amount inspected. In addition there were condemned nearly 25,000,000 pounds upon re-inspection.

This, at least, looks as if the government is trying to protect the public against diseased and unwholesome meats, and should raise the value of everything bearing the stamp "U. S. Inspected and Passed."

There is only one government inspected plant in operation in Utah. This is the plant of the Ogden Packing & Provision Co., with Ogden and Salt Lake City as its main distributing points. At this plant the government has stationed one veterinary surgeon and two meat inspectors, and the above report of the Secretary shows the thoroughness of their work.

Government inspected meats are just as cheap as any other kinds of meats, and it is left with you to decide whether you want the meats out of which all diseased and unwholesome meats have been condemned, or the uninspected meats where diseased meats are not condemned.

The Ogden Packing & Provision Co. are not retailers, but their government inspected meats are handled exclusively at the meat markets listed below. Is your market listed?

YOUNG HORSETHIEF TELLS OF CRIMES

Walter Turner, the nineteen-year-old boy who was arrested near Huntsville Sunday on the charge of having stolen several horses, and who confessed in the sheriff's office to the theft of eleven animals, has been in Salt Lake City for the last two days, in charge of deputy sheriffs, assisting in the recovery of several animals which have gone astray through his stealings.

Four horses have been recovered so far, and several others traced. The boy has confessed to numbers of other stealings and crooked trades, which will bring the total number somewhere between twenty and thirty animals.

Bargains in Small Tracts of Orchard and Garden Lands Near Ogden City

During the month of September we are authorized to offer at private sale, any or all of a tract of 160 acres located within two miles of the 24th Street viaduct within two miles of two canning factories, and within two and one quarter miles of the sugar factory.

The Northwest corner of this tract is crossed by the O. S. L. and D. & R. G. Railroads. The former has a side track on this land where freight cars can be loaded or unloaded.

The Bamberger Electric Road from Ogden to Salt Lake has a station within 3.4 of a mile of this land, 15 minutes walk where trains stop at intervals of 1 1/2 hours. This service begins at 6:10 a. m. and continues until midnight. Fare into town, 15 cents.

THE SAND RIDGE

has been demonstrated as one of the most successful fruit belts in the state. It is being covered from one end to the other with fine vineyards and orchards of peach, pear, cherry and apple trees. Small fruits of every kind are successfully grown. The land not planted to fruit is growing crops of alfalfa, grain and vegetables.

Between the rows of young fruit trees enough potatoes, tomatoes and beets are in many cases being harvested this year to more than cover the first cost of the land.

Because of the location and character of the soil the season free from killing frosts is two weeks earlier in the spring and two weeks later in the fall.

You can take your choice of soils, including a sandy loam, a fine gravelly soil with north and west slope, or a deep black soil that WILL GROW ANYTHING, with or without water, from fruit trees to any kind of vegetable you can mention.

You can buy five, ten or more acres, facing on a road, and can take your choice of the unsold tracts at

One Hundred Dollars Per Acre

The terms provide that you pay down ten per cent of the purchase price and at once take possession of the land. The balance you pay in NINE EQUAL SEMI-ANNUAL PAYMENTS, with 8 per cent interest. The present owner pays this year's taxes.

If you desire at any time to pay cash in advance of the time when due you will be allowed a discount equal to 8 per cent interest.

Here Is Your Chance to have a share in the future growth of the orchard and fruit industry of Weber county. You can live on this land and work in Ogden, or you can have your home in the city and make daily trips to your land.

This Whole tract lies under the Davis & Weber Counties Canal, by far the finest and most satisfactory water supply in the state and is surrounded on all sides by fields and orchards watered from that canal. No shares of water are sold with the land at the above price and terms. Better see us and have us reserve one of these tracts for you.
